Four Die In Okla. Tornado

Possible Fifth Fatality As Twisters Strike

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Oklahoma Highway Patrol reported four and possibly five persons killed in a tornado which struck the north edge of Stonewall in south central Oklahoma Saturday night.

It was one of several twisters which ripped the eastern part of the state. No deaths were reported from the other tornadoes.

The brunt of the tornado apparently was born by an even smaller community named Frisco three miles due west of Stonewall. About 15 injured persons were taken from both Frisco and Stonewall to the hospital in Ada.

Nine persons were injured when first hail and then the funnel struck a small restaurant about one mile northwest of Stonewall. None was believed fatally injured.

Henry Warren Sullivan, operator of the restaurant, said hail of baseball size hammered in the roof of the concrete building before the funnel hit. He said some of the hail stones weighed one quarter pound.

Ada Fire Chief Dudley Young reported seeing three bodies on the ground at Frisco and it was believed these were in addition to the one known fatality, L. Tom Daniel of Frisco. He was dead on arrival at an Ada hospital.

Roads in the Frisco-Stonewall area were choked with debris and power and telephone lines knocked down by the storm.

Other injuries from twisters were reported at Strang and Camp Caraway on Lake of the Cherokees in northeast Oklahoma. Detailed reports from these areas were lacking due to damaged utility lines and debris on roads.

But the highway patrol reported dispatching ambulances into both areas.

There were at least eight confirmed tornadoes on the ground and several more unconfirmed twisters.

Nowata County Sheriff Archie Squichie said a tornado at Watova.

Three-Year-Old Girl Is Severely Burned

Deborah Gill, three-year-old daughter of A/IC and Mrs. Columbus Gill, 306 West Johnson, received first, second and third degree burns over her entire abdomen, right arm, left hand and wrist Saturday when she apparently attempted to light one of her father's cigarettes.

According to Dr. A. R. Maddox, who treated Deborah at Bothwell Hospital, the little girl was alone in a room at her home and her clothing caught fire when she apparently tried to light the cigarette. She ran to where her mother was in another room, clothes flaming, and Mrs. Gill put out the fire and rushed her to Dr. Maddox' office. All of Deborah's clothing was burnt off the front of her body.

Dr. Maddox summoned police and had them rush her to the hospital.

Hits House in Southwest Missouri

A Family Escapes Serious Injury as Tornado Strikes

ANDERSON, Mo. (AP) — A tornado swept across McDonald County in the southwestern corner of Missouri Saturday night, destroying a concrete block farm house four miles north of here.

The house belonged to farmer A. F. Williams, Williams, his wife and their five children were in the house on U. S. Highway 71 when the twister hit. The children suffered minor injuries but their parents escaped unhurt. The children were treated at a Neosho hospital and released.

All of southwestern Missouri, particularly McDonald and Newton counties, have been alerted to the possibility of more tornadoes. At Stella, patients were herded into the basement of the Cardwell Memorial Hospital after two twisters passed over the village in the air. Another thunderstorm was approaching the town.

The Williams home was two miles north of Anderson and about 30 miles due south of Joplin, largest city in the area.

First reports said there were two tornadoes in the area, but both reports apparently referred to the same storm. The twister hit about 7:15 p.m.

Most, if not all, of McDonald County was without electric power, said Hoyt Bethel, REA line superintendent for the area. He said the storm severed lines throughout the county.

The Weather Bureau said its radar at Kansas City had picked up a strong thunderstorm cell about 10 to 15 miles northeast of Trenton. Thunderstorms also were reported 10 to 20 miles north of the Kansas - Oklahoma line, just west of Missouri.

Another heavy thunderstorm was reported developing in the area around Butler, Mo., and still another has formed over the Lake of the Ozarks east of Warsaw, Mo., the Weather Bureau said.

Johnson Is Charged With Dillon Killing

Suffers Mild Attack

Pneumonia Weakens Condition of Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mild attack of pneumonia has further weakened the condition of John Foster Dulles, seriously ill with cancer.

The 71-year-old former secretary of state suffered the attack at Walter Reed Army Hospital, where he has been a patient much of the time since Feb. 12.

"Secretary Dulles has contracted a mild pneumonia," the State Department said Saturday in a medical bulletin. "The initial response to antibiotics has been satisfactory, and his temperature is now normal."

"He is, however, somewhat weaker."

A department press officer, Joseph Reap, said he did not know when Dulles had contracted the pneumonia. Since his temperature was reported back to normal, he presumably was suffering from it Friday, when he had at least three visitors.

Dulles' successor, Secretary Christian A. Herter, dropped by the hospital to say good-by before leaving in midafternoon for the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Geneva. The State Department said then that as Herter left after their brief talk, Dulles had called out: "Good luck, Chris."

Earlier, President Eisenhower and his friend, Washington businessman George E. Allen, had dropped in for what was described as a half-hour visit while on their way to Eisenhower's Camp David retreat near Thurmont, Md.

The most recent public photograph of Dulles showed him looking wan and thin but in apparent good spirits when Eisenhower and Sir Winston Churchill visited him at the hospital Tuesday.

Dulles was in a wheel chair then. The State Department said Dulles can walk but sometimes finds the wheel chair more convenient for such travel as trips to the hospital sun porch.

Dulles is fighting his second bout with cancer. Surgery proved temporarily successful in 1956 against an intestinal cancer. When a recurrence was discovered in February, doctors decided to rely on massive radiation. On April 14 they reported evidence of a cancerous growth in Dulles' lower neck. His resignation as secretary of state was announced the following day.

Ten days ago some improvement in Dulles' comfort and general condition was reported. Reap said then: "His spirits are good, and his weight is stationary. There has been a general easing of the pain."

Death Took Place Early On Saturday

Apparently Shot In An Argument Over Dice Game

A charge of first degree murder was filed against Wayman Leroy Johnson, an 18-year-old Negro, in connection with the fatal shooting of Roy Dillon, 1300 East Third, early Saturday morning.

The charge was filed by Prosecuting Attorney Harold W. Barrick in Magistrate Court just before noon Saturday. Johnson was transferred from the city jail, where he had been held since the shooting, to the county jail to await preliminary hearing. There is no bond in a first degree murder case, Barrick stated.

Dillon, 42, was fatally shot about 1:15 a.m. Saturday, at Osage and Henry. The shooting took place inside Dillon's 1948 Chevrolet, according to a statement Johnson gave the police. Dillon is white.

Dillon was found by another Negro, James Leo Jackson of 708 West Pettis. Jackson told the police he came upon the car and stopped when he saw an arm apparently trying to wave him down. He said he got out of his car and, as he walked up to the Dillon car, the man slumped over in the seat of the automobile. "About that time," Jackson said, "the police patrol car with Officers Overton Buckner and William Burnham pulled up."

The officers made a hurried check and first thought the man had been beaten up and radioed for an ambulance, and sent for Night Chief Jack Couts. Dillon was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital in the McLaughlin ambulance, where Dr. Stanley Fisher attended him. Dillon died at 2:17 a.m. He never regained consciousness.

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin was notified and with his assistant, Couts, a systematic investigation was initiated. Many Negroes were taken to police headquarters and questioned. Shortly before 6 o'clock, the officers brought in Johnson from his room at 409 West Henry, where he turned over to the officers a jacket which had some blood on it and a .32 caliber pistol with four empty chambers.

Johnson at first maintained he was innocent, during questioning by Barrick and the officers. A

MONEY ON THE MOVE... THE INSURED SAVINGS AND LOAN WAY

What happens to the money put into savings accounts at FSLIC-Insured Savings and Loan Associations like ours is the dramatic story of money on the move. This money, totaling more than $45 billion, is part of the life blood of business. Insured Savings and Loan Associations finance over one third of all home construction in America. This money provides jobs for carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, plumbers, plasterers and all other workers in construction—the nation's biggest industry.

But that's only the beginning! The materials for these homes come from hundreds of other industries —$670 million in wiring annually, $70 million in cement, over 11 billion board-feet of lumber, plus steel, glass, plaster and all other materials it takes to build homes. The production of these materials keeps hundreds of businesses humming and provides millions of people with income, some of which is returned to these Associations as savings.

Here is the cycle of money circulation on which prosperity depends. Money in savings accounts in Insured Savings and Loan Associations is money working for all business. S-C Debate Team Brings State Trophy to Sedalia

The Smith-Cotton debate team has succeeded in bringing the State Championship Trophy home to Sedalia for the first time in several years. Harold McAninch, debate coach, has high hopes that this will be just the beginning of a long string of winners. The prospects for next year look good, as there will be nine returning varsity debaters upon which to build a well-rounded squad.

The state championship team this year is made up of two seniors and two juniors. These students have all brought many honors to their school during their years of participation in speech work at Smith-Cotton. Ted Walsh, a senior member of the squad, started his speech experience as a sophomore and has won several first place trophies in extemporaneous speaking, radio, debate, and duet acting. He also played one of the major roles in the drama play, "The Glass Menagerie," last fall at the high school. At the State Student Congress, Ted was selected by his fellow representatives as their choice to represent them at the National Congress in June. He is well liked by his fellow debaters across the state and in his own high school. The members of the local National Forensic League Chapter elected him vice-president his junior year and president this past year. He has amassed a total of 607 NFL points in three years which ranks him second high in Missouri this year.

Leroy Street, the other senior member of the debate squad, also started his speech activities in his sophomore year. He went to state last year in radio speaking, and has served as Smith-Cotton radio reporter for the past two years. Leroy has brought home several trophies in oratorical declamation and duet acting this year. He served as a senator in the Missouri Student Congress and was selected by his fellow senators as an alternate to the national Senate. Leroy has proven to be an outstanding participant in debate, drama, and tennis during his high school career and it is expected he will be receiving honors in all three at Southern Methodist University next year.

True Cross Relic Given Sacred Heart

A relic of the True Cross was presented to Sacred Heart Catholic Church by Frank Quinn and Miss Mary Quinn at services Sunday, May 3, the feast of the Finding of the Holy Cross.

They are brother and sister of Monsignor William Quinn, deceased 1938, who received this relic as a gift from His Eminence Cardinal Van Rossum. That was during the 1930's when Monsignor Quinn was the National Director of the Propagation of the Faith which office now is held by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.

At the veneration of the relic, Father G. P. Pelletier and Father James Schrader sang alternately stanzas of the hymn, "Vexilla Regis" in honor of the Holy Cross.

Commenting on historical background of the Cross, Miss Mary Helen Mayer says that authenticated church history reveals that in the early part of the 4th Century St. Helena, mother of Constantine the Great, went to Palestine and initiated the excavations which uncovered the True Cross on which Christ died. Part of the precious wood of the Cross was sent to Constantinople, part to Rome, where St. Helena built a church to enshrine it. By the middle of the 4th Century veneration of pieces of the True Cross began, especially in the form of building churches and chapels and of making rich reliquaries and crosses of precious metals encrusted with precious stones. These reliquaries testify to the belief in the authenticity of the True Cross which St. Helena was instrumental in rediscovering in the early part of the 4th Century.

What Will Happen?

Many Wonder About New KC Government

EDITOR'S NOTE — Years ago, when Boss Pendergast ruled Kansas City, it was a town renowned for its gaudy ways. Could there be another heady binge now that the reform administration which wrestled control from Pendergast has been voted out of office?

By CALVIN MANON

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City gave its 19-year-old reform government the boot last month. Now everybody's wondering what the outcome will be.

Already L. P. Cookingham, city manager since May, 1940, has been forced to resign and three department heads have been fired. No explanation has been given other than that the action was taken at the direction of the new city council.

Will the switch in administrations mean another heady binge similar to the one the city went through under the domination of the old Pendergast Democratic machine two decades ago?

Remembered are the gambling houses which operated so openly some even passed out advertising match books; the night clubs which featured the "business men's lunch," served by naked waitresses; the burlesque houses with the nude chorus lines; the dope peddlers and just about every form of vice imaginable.

The chances are there won't be a return to those times. So far the new administration hasn't given any indication that any general opening up is contemplated. In any event, the situation today hardly is comparable with that in the 1930s.

First, the coalition of Democratic factions which unseated the Citizens Assn. the reform group which has controlled the city since 1940, has no one outstanding leader.

This has been particularly evident in the council's stalemate in selecting a successor to Cookingham, who had been made an issue in the campaign by several opposition candidates. They called him dictatorial and arbitrary.

The council finally appointed Reed McKinley, Cookingham's director of public works, as acting manager until it could agree on a replacement.

Second, Kansas City's police department is under control of the state, completely divorced from city control and politics.

H. Roe Bartle has been elected mayor twice as the candidate of the Citizens Assn. He also was endorsed by the Democratic coalition which followed the policy of endorsing those Citizens candidates it felt it had no chance of beating, anyway.

Why did the city finally turn on the Citizens group after 19 years? Cookingham, himself, offered one explanation.

"If the Citizens Assn. made a mistake it was not to sponsor a good campaigner who had been a member of the city council, but not necessarily a good team man," the former city manager said.

He didn't mention any name in his address before a group of Missouri University students, but it was evident he referred to the election of Charles Shafer Jr., on the coalition ticket. Shafer, elected four years ago with association endorsement, had been dropped by the organization in favor of another candidate.

He then received coalition support and was elected after campaigning as a severe critic of the administration.

Had he been re-elected on the association ticket, that group still would have had control of the council by a 5-4 margin.

Other political observers say rising costs and the necessity for increasing city revenue through added taxes was another factor.

When Cookingham took over, the city had a deficit of more than 22 million dollars and more than 6,500 persons on the payroll. In four years he had eliminated the deficit, reduced the payroll to 3,000, and generally expanded city services.

When the era of rising costs set in during World War II, and the day came when the city either had to have more revenue or cut services, an earnings tax lost by a 4-1 margin at the polls three years ago.

Then the city instituted a series of nuisance taxes, including a sewer tax which averaged about 25 per cent of the water bills.

The opposition campaigned this year on a platform of "eliminate the sewer taxes; no earnings tax; and it's time for a change."

The new council inherited the job of adopting a budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year while living up to campaign pledges, and stepped right into trouble.

It cut the sewer tax from 25 to 10 per cent, and to compensate for the loss of revenue eliminated all sewer maintenance to emergency work only. Provisions for hiring additional policemen and firemen were eliminated, and the police board indicated it would not take its budget cut sitting down.

Meanwhile Cookingham, now on terminal leave, pointed out in his final report that the federal and state health departments had demanded cities end pollution of streams by treatment of sewage treatment facilities.

McKinley said engineers estimate the first stage of this project would cost from 40 to 50 million dollars. This, he added, probably would require a sewer tax of 100 per cent of water bills.

And this is only one of several problems now resting in the lap of the new council.

Donation By Green Ridge To Cancer

By Mrs. Verna Palmer

In the recent Cancer Fund Drive the people of Green Ridge community donated $104.15. Mrs. Loy Smith was general chairman for the Green Ridge community and the following workers assisted: Mrs. Melvin Ray, Mrs. Ralph Chaney, Mrs. Emmett Ruffin, Mrs. Sam Anderson, Mrs. Dick Sole, Mrs. Robert Calvert, Mrs. Dale Ray, Mrs. S. A. Sloan, Jr., and Mrs. Lloyd Street.

The Green Ridge Baptist Church will conduct its annual Daily Vacation Bible School at the church, beginning on Monday, May 25 and concluding on Friday, June 5. Classes will be held each afternoon for children from 3 to fifteen years.

Sloan's Grain and Feed Co., is constructing new facilities to insure the faster handling of grain during harvest this summer.

When completed the new equipment will have a capacity of approximately 3,000 bushels per hour according to the owners and operators, S. A. Sloan, Jr., and Daryl Sloan.

Mrs. Johnnie Loch and son, Lyle Smith, of Kansas City, were recent Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Embree and family and R. W. Smith at their home in Green Ridge.

Lyle Smith is spending a leave from the U. S. Navy visiting with relatives after serving the past 18 months in the Far East.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Morgan and son, J. C., all of the Green Ridge community were recent weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Weller and family at Towanda, Kan. On Sunday afternoon they were guests at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Weller's daughter, Miss Kathryn Weller and Edwin E. Travnick at the First Methodist Church at Towanda.

Mrs. Robert Carlson was hostess to the members of the W. M. U. of the Green Ridge Baptist Church recently at her home.

The president, Mrs. George Spickert opened the meeting and the Watch-word was repeated in unison. Mrs. Ethel Sims led the group in prayer after which a brief business session was conducted by Mrs. Spickert.

Roll call was by repeating a favorite verse of scripture. Mrs. Spickert was also in charge of the program, "The Song of the Lord Begun". All members present assisted in the discussion of the lesson.

A prayer session was conducted with Mrs. Charles Moore giving the closing prayer.

The May meeting of the W. M. U. will be held at the church with Mrs. G. W. Hamby in charge of the program.

Galloping Coffee To Help Heart Council

DONATION TO HEART COUNCIL—Mrs. Genevieve Watson, left, president of the Sedalia Altrusa Club, presents to John Brown, Heart Fund campaign chairman, and Miss Grace Farley, president of the Pettis County Heart Council, a check from the club for $66.87. The money represented the proceeds from "Galloping Coffees" held during February and March. (Wright photo)

A check for $66.87, proceeds from a "Galloping Coffee" project, was presented by Mrs. Genevieve Watson, president of the Sedalia Altrusa Club, to John Brown, campaign chairman, and Miss Grace Farley, president of the Pettis County Heart Council at the Council's meeting on April 27.

Mrs. Watson stated that the new Altrusa Club has participated in two international projects. Altrusa International, through its "grants-in-aid" program, is working to build new understanding in the western hemisphere. And, through the "Founder's Fund," grants of $50 to $250 are made to women of all ages and older women in particular, who need training, re-training or personal rehabilitation in order to obtain profitable employment.

Altrusa, she said, commends to its members an active interest in public affairs. Each member must be doing the piece of work that is hers in a way that puts her in the front ranks of accomplishment. Results of the club's first local project created a proud sense of accomplishment in each of its 21 members. The membership, which is classified, will never be large.

The project, raising money for the Heart Fund, was carried out in the months of February and March. The club was proud to present a check for $66.87 to the Pettis County Heart Council. The project chairman, Miss Roseanne Dugan, presented and "kicked off" the program at a party called a "Galloping Coffee" which was given by Mrs. Beryl Heyer, 408 State Fair Blvd. Each guest, a member, paid 50 cents and coffee from a "Galloping Coffee" project, was furnished by the hostess. From this point, those participating in the first party gave a party to five guests who were asked to invite four to a party which they would give. These "Galloping Coffee Parties" continued all over town, with the four inviting three, the three inviting two, the two inviting one, and the one inviting one other. Each person invited to one of the parties paid 50 cents.

Altrusa is the pioneer of women's service clubs, established in 1917, in Nashville, Tenn. The Sedalia Club was organized in May, 1958. The name Altrusa is a derivative of the word "Altruistic." Webster defines "Altruism" as "regard for, and devotion to, the interests of others."

Company History Given

Town and Country to Sponsor Second Commerce Breakfast

Sponsoring the second Chamber of Commerce breakfast which will be held Monday at Sacred Heart Cafeteria will be Town and Country Shoe Co. Gifts will be provided for this breakfast by Town and Country amounting to about $200. Officials of the company will be there and a brief history of the company will be given.

Town & Country Shoe Co. was organized May 3, 1943, by Vergil C. Lipscomb and C. William Mathieson and manufacturing operations were started immediately in a modern 1-story factory building constructed by the citizens of Sedalia.

The 13 years prior to 1943, Lipscomb, president of Town & Country Shoes, was connected with the Wohl Shoe Co. of St. Louis where he was in complete charge of all buying and merchandising of shoes for that company. During these 13 years, this company developed into one of the largest retail shoe chains in America.

Mathieson, executive vice-president and treasurer of Town & Country Shoes for many years, headed up the factories that specialized in the manufacture of women's novelty shoes for International Shoe Co. of St. Louis. He resigned from that firm in 1943 to become associated with Lipscomb, and together they came to Sedalia and founded Town & Country Shoes. The aim of this company since its inception has been to produce "America's Best Fashion Shoe Value", a slogan which the company has copyrighted and which today appears as the by-line of its national advertising.

Two years after entering business, the company in 1945 by invitation from the civic and industrial leaders of Warrensburg, established in that community the company's second manufacturing unit. A modern, 1-story daylight factory with 22,000 square feet of floor space was erected by the citizens of Warrensburg for the company. Town & Country's first national advertising campaign was also launched at this time to promote its name throughout the entire United States.

In the meantime, the Town & Country trademark had been copyrighted in both the United States and seven foreign countries. After this had been accomplished, the services of a leading fashion coordinator and publicity director were engaged to develop exclusive colors to provide authentic fashion with promotional value. In a matter of time, the leading department and fashion shoe stores throughout the country sought the Town & Country franchise, and dealerships were rapidly established in every leading city.

Year after year orders exceeded production facilities, and in 1948, when the company was approached by the citizens of Odessa and invited to come into their community, it was decided to build a third factory. After operating for a short period in temporary quarters, ground was then broken and construction was begun on a 1-story factory building following in design the modern lines of the Warrensburg factory. In May of 1958, Town & Country continued its expansion program in Odessa, Mo. To the original structure an addition that increased overall floor space by 50 per cent was added. This new addition was necessitated by increased sales and, of course, has resulted in substantially increasing employment and payroll in Odessa during the past year.

In 1952 members of the Slater Chamber of Commerce extended an invitation to Town & Country to locate a factory in their community. This factory today specializes in making low heel "Flats" which are so popular with the younger set. Slater payroll totals right at $1,000,000 annually and in a town of 3,500 this payroll has had a profound effect on the economic welfare of the community.

In Sedalia, early in 1952 Town & Country purchased the property at the corner of Main and Missouri Ave. to house a heel processing unit and a unit for the manufacture of all bows, stripping and sundry items that formerly had been purchased on the outside. These units have provided many additional jobs for the people of Sedalia.

Late in 1953 Town & Country purchased a second ultra-modern building across the street from the main factory building located on North Missouri Ave. known as the Jerry Brown building. This building provided an additional 10,000 feet of floor space. The building was extensively remodelled to suit the company's needs. Also in 1956 an additional 10,000 feet all on one floor was added to the west side of the original building which was completed that year. In 1957 new modern administrative offices of 5,000 feet of floor space were added to the above structure which today is used for general offices, upper leather department and in-stock operations. This building provides in all 25,000 feet of floor space.

The company's growth in Sedalia has continued uninterrupted year by year since 1943. The original factory building comprised 12,000 feet of floor space. Today the company operates in four buildings in Sedalia with a combined floor space area of 62,000 square feet.

Tiptonites Get Honorary FFA Chapter Degree

Mayor O. J. Stratman and Athel Hays were recipients of the Honorary F.F.A. Chapter Farmer Degree at the recent Annual Tipton F.F.A. Family Night held in the high school cafeteria.

Roscoe R. Gibson, vocational agriculture instructor in the high school and Tipton Chapter F.F.A. instructor, in awarding the degree to the two prominent citizens, renumerated the many worthy deeds that had been performed by both individuals.

Some 226 F.F.A. boys, their parents and guests enjoyed a "down to earth" talk by Jim Thiel who was the first and second president of the Tipton F.F.A. Jim pointed out the advantages that were offered to the Vocational Agriculture boys of Missouri. He said that he believed the training they were receiving would be of great value to them regardless of their choice in later life. The boys that were going on to college or those that were beginning farming would find that their training would help them avoid some of the "pitfalls" that all persons must experience in life. In their supervised farming program, these boys were getting experience that could not be learned in any other way.

Nathan Miller gave a short review of his farming program which led to his being selected as the Star State Farmer of 1959.

Clara Hart Retires From Employment

After 11 years of employment in Jefferson City as clerk in the Missouri Division of Employment, benefit section, Miss Clara E. Hart was retired under retirement provision and returned to her home in California on April 30. She had commuted to her job in the Capital City each day.

Before her position in Jefferson City, Miss Hart served for 22 years as deputy collector of Monticello County, serving consecutively under four different collectors.

She is a graduate of the California High School and also of the Central Business College in Sedalia. For a period she was employed in the Third National Bank in Sedalia, also in the office of Kraft Food Co. in Sedalia and California.

She was honored by her co-workers in Jefferson City with numerous farewell parties, showers and luncheons.

Starting in 1943 in Sedalia with a handful of operators, the company today in Sedalia has on its payrolls 550 employees with an annual payroll of approximately $2,000,000.

Town & Country was possibly the first shoe manufacturer in Missouri that adopted a modern comprehensive life insurance, health and sickness, and accident group insurance program. An insured pension plan for employees was inaugurated in January of 1958 which is administered by the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. The company has sponsored and encouraged a credit union which is administered and controlled entirely by the employees of the company, and which today has assets of $1,000,000.

Today a complete line of women's dress and casual shoes including low, medium and high heels are manufactured and distributed by 1,000 of America's leading specialty and department stores located in major cities in every state in the union including Hawaii and Alaska.

Johnson Is Charged

short time later, Johnson volunteered to make a statement to the officers and Barrick and Chief Hamlin were summoned back to the station.

Johnson told the officers that he had been at a business place on North Broadway, where he said Dillon and his friend had been. He told Barrick, Chief Hamlin and other officers that they had been in a dice game in a back room, and Dillon had lost between $50 and $70.

He said that Dillon's friend departed in a taxi and that he, Johnson, had started walking on home. He said he had reached Osage "When this man (Dillon) drove up and offered me a lift. I got in the car and said I'd take one. (Meaning the lift) We drove up Osage and at Clay I told him I wanted to get out to walk on over to my house and then at Henry street, I told him I wanted to get out there. The man stopped and turned to me and said he wanted the money I had won off of him. I told him I didn't win any and he started hitting me. He hit me twice and I pulled out the gun from my right pocket and fired. I shot four or five times." (Later Johnson said he shot four times.)

Johnson continued by telling the officers he got out of the car and went home, where he took the spent shells out of the gun. He said he then went back and saw the ambulance at the car and walked up there, throwing away the empty cartridge shells in a yard.

Johnson said another Negro youth had told him he took Dillon's billfold out of his pocket. Chief Hamlin stated the person accused by Johnson as having taken the billfold of Dillon was checked and questioned. Other witnesses, it was revealed, said the person could not have stolen the billfold as was claimed by Johnson.

When Dillon's clothing was searched for identification at the Bothwell Hospital, the billfold was missing. Dillon's brothers, Albert and Jack, were at the hospital and stated he should have had about $100 on his person and in his billfold. The only money found on him was a $10 bill.

The statement of Johnson was recorded on tape, and was made in the presence of Lt. James O. Rhoads, and Sgt. J. G. Runklin of the Missouri State Highway Patrol laboratory. The troopers took possession of the gun and will make ballistic tests, check the blood on the jacket and on Johnson's pants.

Dillon had been shot at least three times, it was determined at the hospital.

Dr. C. G. Stauffacher, coroner, was called to the hospital and viewed the body. The body was then sent to the Ewing Funeral Home, where Dr. Stauffacher conducted a post-mortem.

Dillon was born July 26, 1916, at Versailles, the son of the late Austin and Laura Dillon. Following the death of his mother, his father and family moved to Sedalia in 1926.

He attended Washington School in Sedalia.

Surviving are three brothers, Alfred and Floyd, with whom he resided at 1300 East Third, and Jack Dillon of 1311 East Third, and one sister, Mrs. Ben H. Bradley, 401 West 18th.

Dillon was employed as a laborer with the Sievers Construction Co.

Funeral services will be held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 1:00 p.m. Monday.

The Rev. Kenneth Davidson, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in the Versailles Cemetery.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Larry Edmondson, a Miami, Okla., architect, said he sighted at least two twisters near Grove as he was driving away from the town.

The highway patrol said $50,000 damage was done by a twister which struck the H. V. Van Pelt ranch near Talala. Barns, trucks, corrals and cattle were destroyed but there were no reports of personal injuries.

Twelve persons had to make their way across Lake of the Cherokees to report damage caused by the twister which slammed into Camp Caraway. They said all roads leading into the camp were blocked by debris.

• Accidents

Four cars went into a chain of events about 3:40 p.m. Friday about five miles west of Sedalia on U.S. Highway 50 in which damage resulted only to the vehicles. No injuries were reported.

All cars were traveling west on Highway 50 when the accident occurred, according to Trooper Pete Stohr of the State Highway Patrol.

The first car was a 1951 Chevrolet coach driven by Gerald Lee Fisher, 19, of Center, Mo., the second car was a 1957 Plymouth convertible driven by 1st Lt. Wesley Julius Guthals, 24, of the 340th ARS, Whiteman AFB, the third vehicle was a 1955 Mercury hardtop driven by A-2c Willie B. M. Iler, 21, of the 340th Operations Squadron, Whiteman AFB, and the fourth was a 1956 Ford sedan driven by Frank O. Ferree, 71, of Kansas City, Kan.

Trooper Stohr reported his investigation showed a construction company truck was flowing dirt out of the two-foot trench along the north side of the pavement raising a cloud of dust. Car number one and two came to a stop, car number four hit the rear of car number three, number three hit number two and number two was knocked into the rear of number one.

Damages of about $50 each to the Chevrolet and Plymouth and between $250 and $300 each to the Mercury and Ford resulted.

A two-car accident occurred at 11 a.m. Saturday 1½ miles west of Dresden on Highway 50. No injuries resulted.

It involved a 1958 Ford sedan driven east on 50 by Genevieve Helen Iuen, 63, Kansas City, and a 1955 Ford convertible driven east on 50 by Marilyn Joyce Winzenried, 28, North Kansas City.

The accident apparently happened when the car driven by Mrs. Iuen slowed to pull around a truck parked partially on the pavement. As she slowed, the convertible ran into the rear of the sedan, according to the Highway Patrol.

The Iuen automobile received a damaged rear end but was able to proceed. The convertible was towed into Sedalia by the Chamberlain wrecker with a damaged front end.

A one-truck accident resulted in two accidents within a matter of a couple of minutes about 2:40 a.m. Saturday on the Claycomb Hill, North Highway 65. Elijah G. Belsha, 42, of Warsaw, driver of the truck suffered minor hurts.

Belsha was driving south and coming down the hill when his 1948 Dodge pickup truck ran into the bank on the right side of the highway. The truck overturned as it struck the bank and rolled over on its side and across the pavement.

A 1954 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Charles William Gallagher, 27, 1020 West 11th, was going south on the highway and as he came around the topcurve, A-2c Onal Conness, 22, Whiteman AFB, who was riding with him called attention that something was on the highway.

Gallagher said he applied his brakes and his car began skidding and struck the truck. He was able to pull his car out and around the truck, and as they ran back to it to see if anyone was in it saw Belsha crawling out the back window which he had smashed.

Belsha told Trooper Pete Stohr of the State Highway Patrol he just broke the window when he saw the car coming and stayed in the cab. Extensive damage resulted to the truck and damage to the Chevrolet was to the front end, hood and the right side of the sedan.

Belsha was taken to the Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing ambulance where his injuries were

Final Plans
For Camporee
Being Made

Final arrangements for the 1959 District Camporee are being completed, Roy Dawson, general chairman of the big boy scout event said today.

The Camporee this year will be held in the city park at Sweet Springs Friday with over 40 patrols and more than 200 boys scheduled to participate.

Competition will be by patrols who will camp and compete in scout skills against a scouting standard.

Camped at the Camporee site in Sweet Springs will be boy scout units from Sedalia, Smithton, Marshall, Slater, Malta Bend and Sweet Springs.

The boys will arrive at camp on Friday afternoon and spend Saturday competing in axeman-ship, flag raising, pancake fry, flint and steel, knot tying, tent pitching, compass, map signs, trail of trees, trail signs, first aid, and signalling. Points will also be given for general Scout cleanliness, attitude, and cooperation.

P. A. Sillers, Sedalia, will serve as head judge.

Church services for all faiths will be held on Sunday morning before the awards ceremony to be held at eleven o'clock.

In addition to the regular camporee awards, Bill Hiatt, District Chairman, will announce the name of the District and award the boy who submitted the winning name a free week at Camp Pa-H-Tsi, or a $15.00 gift certificate redeemable in Scouting merchandise.

George Kendrick, Slater, is the program chairman while Don Horgan, Marshall, is vice-chairman of the Camporee.

George Sutherland, Marshall, will be in charge of the big Saturday night campfire in which all patrols will participate. Sutherland emphasized that parents and guests are welcome to attend the campfire which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

According to Dawson this should be the biggest Camporee the District has ever held, and is shaping up toward being a memorable occasion for all concerned.

Harry Naugel, Sedalia, concessions chairman, reports that ice and firewood will be available to all patrols free of charge, while milk will be sold at a nominal charge at the commissary.

Explorer Posts 66 and 56, of Sedalia, will assist in setting up the camp.

Green Ridge Lodge Holds Regular Meet

Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge held its regular session on Monday night, May 4, at the hall, with the Noble Grand, Mrs. Estelle Fletcher, presiding.

Three guests from the LaMonte Rebekah Lodge were introduced and welcomed, they were Mrs. Berniece Wing, Mrs. Grace De-Frain, and Mrs. Mary Nichols.

Mrs. Frances Baslee and Mrs. Helen McNew gave an interesting report about the Four-State Conclave of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs held recently at Kansas City, which they attended. They reported on the Lodge sessions held on Saturday and the Drill Pageant performed that night at the Municipal Auditorium. There were more than 1200 persons in the Grand March, all on the floor at the same time and 70 drill teams performed floor drills. Otis McNew and Jim Pace attended Saturday night.

In commemoration of Mother's Day, the following were given recognition and presented a small potted plant from the Noble Grand Mrs. Mary Nichols as the oldest mother, Mrs. Faye Ridenour as the mother of the most children and Mrs. Helen McNew as the youngest mother present. Mrs. Hilda Morgan read a poem titled "Mother".

The chaplain, Mrs. Verna Palmer, read the Bible lesson from the Book of Ephesians.

The Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge is eligible to be on the second honor roll of the president of the Rebekah Assembly of Missouri, Mrs. Venita Disch of Carrollton.

At the conclusion of the lodge session, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer showed colored slides of their Rose Garden taken last spring and summer, pictures of their blooming shrubs and trees, also pictures of their perennials and annual flowers in a riot of color and other scenes of interest.

Large arrangements of lilacs and a small arrangement of snowballs on the desk added to the attractiveness of the hall.

The hostesses, Mrs. Helen Mc-New and Mrs. Velma Pilkenton served refreshments from a prettily arranged table, centered with an arrangement of purple iris and white spirea, graced on either side with purple candles.

Favors were miniature maypoles in nut cups.

At the conclusion of the program, four plates of refreshments and a spray of lilacs were sent to four shut-in members by Mrs. McNew.

S-C Tigers Drop 4-3 Decision to Columbia

The Smith-Cotton Tigers dropped their ninth game of the season and the second to the Columbia Kewpies, 4-3, in a game played at Columbia Friday. The Bengals have won eight this year.

Wes Fewell went all the way in hurling the win for the Kewpies. The sophomore righthander fanned 12 Tigers, walked four and yielded only two hits. Nicky Nichols pitched for Smith-Cotton and was nipped for six hits. He whiffed six and gave up three walks.

Columbia jumped into a three-run lead in the bottom of the second. Simmons walked and was safe at second when the Sedalia second baseman booted Pace's grounder. Richardson singled, sending Simmons home and Pace to third. Nichols then fanned Creach and Fewell, but Thomas unloaded a single, driving in Pace. Cornett put the final touch on the rally with a single to center, driving in Richardson.

In the top of the fourth S-C bounced back and knotted the score at 3-3. Nichols and Garrison both fanned to start the inning. Larry Wilson was hit by a pitched ball. Tim Morgan walked and Mike Hanigan drove both home with a three-base shot to center. Hanigan scored when the catcher attempted a pick-off play and threw wildly into left field.

Columbia took advantage on a throwing error by the S-C third sacker. Cornett then cracked a double to center, scoring Thomas. Cornett was pegged out at third when he attempted to stretch the hit into a triple.

Smith-Cotton threatened in the seventh, but couldn't tie it up as Fewell pitched his way out of the jam. Hanigan opened the frame by fanning. Richard Wertz drew a walk and Charles Wadeigh banged out a single to right center, sending Wertz to third. Decker attempted a squeeze, but fouled off two pitches and then fanned. Gary Bryan was Fewell's 12th strike out victim for the game's final out.

The Tigers meet North Kansas City at Northtown Monday afternoon. On Tuesday afternoon the locals will meet the winner of the Joplin-Lovory City regional tournament in the state sectional meet. The winner of this game to be played at Lovory City, will get a berth in the state tourney.

Babe Ruth Practice

Griggs Turns Off Yankees For 7-0 Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Right-hander Hal Griggs shackled the Yankees with 2 hits Saturday and hammering Harmon Killebrew clouted 2 more homers in pacing the Washington Senators to a 7-0 victory.

Killebrew's 9th and 10th homers drove in 4 runs. Bob Allison hit his 5th home run for the Senators. It was the third time in 8 games that Killebrew homered twice in the same game.

Griggs, a fastballing, 6-footer, pitched hitless ball for the first 5 2/3 innings. Tony Kubek rained his bid for a no-hitter by lining a single to center with 2 out in the 6th.

Gil McDougald got the second Yankee hit with one out in the 7th. It was a smash through the middle that sent Griggs tumbling to the ground.

Griggs had the Yankees sizzling, popping and rolling the ball with his fastballs and fast curves. Killebrew's first homer came off starter and loser Bob Turley in the first inning. His second, with two on, was belted off reliever Johnny Kucks in the eighth.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three more members of the New York Yankees were felled with virus Saturday and four members of the Washington Senators also were affected. Infielder Andy Carey, catcher John Blanchard and pitcher Jim Coates of the New York club remained at home in bed.

Outfielder Albie Pearson, first baseman Norm Zauchin and pitchers Russ Kemmerer and John Romonsky were the affected Washington players. Two other Yankees managed to get into uniform but were told not to work out—pitcher Ryne Duren and outfielder Enos Slaughter. Half a dozen others were available but under medication for heavy colds.

Athletics Lose Fifth Straight

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers made it 6 out of 7 for Manager Jimmie Dykes Saturday, beating the Kansas City Athletics 7-4 behind the 11-strikeout pitching of Jim Bunning.

The lanky right-hander had trouble in the first 2 innings as the A's broke into a 3-0 lead on Wayne Terwilliger's wind-blown homer and Bill Tuttle's 2-run double.

But Bunning was in command the rest of the way as he won his second game—both for Dykes—against three early losses for Bill Norman, the deposed manager of the Tigers.

The A's in losing their 5th straight game, committed repeated errors in helping the Tigers to 4 runs in the 3rd inning—2 of them unearned.

The Tigers weren't much better in the field, also committing 3 errors—with catcher Lou Berberet missing 2 consecutive foul pops by Hal Smith.

Orioles Score Early to Nip Red Sox, 4-3

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two Boston misuses and four timely Baltimore hits in the first inning was enough to give the Orioles a 4-3 victory Saturday and keep Baltimore in second place in the American League standings.

After Oriole knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm weathered a rough start from Boston, Baltimore came back to score four times.

Willie Tasty doubled to right and went to third on Jackie Jensen's fielding error, then scored on Bob Boyd's Texas Leaguer to center. Bob Nieman legged out an infield hit, then he and Boyd cut off another base on a throwing error by Don Buddin.

After a walk to Gus Triandos to fill the bases, Gene Woodling forced Triandos at second as Boyd scored. A single by Jim Finigan brought home Nieman, then a sacrifice fly by Billy Gardner scored Woodling.

After that outburst, Billy Hoelt tightened the reins and kept the Orioles in hand the rest of the way.

Boston outbait Baltimore 10 to 6 but was unable to bunch the singles.

White Sox Roll Past Indians, 9-5

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox scored 8 runs on only 4 hits in the 2nd and 3rd innings for a 9-5 victory over the first-place Cleveland Indians Saturday.

Indian starter Herb Score and his immediate successor, Jim Perry, yielded 6 walks and a hit batsman in the 2-inning span which sewed up the game for the White Sox and ended their 5-game losing streak. It was Score's second defeat against 2 victories.

Ray Moore, who replaced Sox starter Barry Latman in the fourth, was the winner, scoring his first decision against two defeats.

The Sox needed only 1 hit to tally 3 runs in the 2nd as they chased Score, who walked 3 and hit a batter before Perry supplanted him.

Perry was just as wild as Score

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

THERE is a lot to say, but to put it all in words would take more space than anyone could imagine about "Joe", Joseph Charles Imhauser, one of the local baseball players whose memory will linger in the minds of baseball fans and youngsters for years to come. But one thing I might mention, nice things have been said about Joe, since he first appeared on the ball diamond with the American Legion junior baseball team, on through the years. It didn't take Joe's death last Monday evening to cause people to say nice things about him.

Articles similar to one which appeared from Moberly, about the time Joe pitched against Moberly, could be written many times over with other ball clubs from the time Joe hurled for the Legion, through Ban Johnson and in his semi-pro career. His clippings are many and none could recall where he had "it poured on". They most generally, gave him much credit for the manner in the way he played.

Joe had hard luck in his coming up when he injured his arm and hurt his chances of going on up to pro baseball. Then Joe was married and he couldn't afford, as a married man, to play a low class of ball which would have been the case in the ladder climb.

But his interest in baseball never died. He was always active in it, even when he went into semi-retirement as a pitcher. He managed the Chiefs for a time, and was a big help for the youngsters coming up. Never was he too busy to stop and talk to a youngster and offer his help in "ironing out" his problems.

Going back to the day he reported for his first real baseball team, the remarks of Palmer Nichols best fit Joe, as one who wouldn't be stopped. Nick, in telling about Joe, said, "He was a tremendously fine boy, a real sportsman, and a likeable kid. We'll all miss him."

Nichols recalled when John Thomas was managing Junior Legion, and they were out on the old "coal chute" diamond, now Housel Park. Nick said, "We were out there and had a gang of kids. I had to interview Joe, but then the name 'Joe Imhauser' didn't mean a thing to me. He was a skinny guy and I said, 'son where are you from?' and he replied 'Georgetown' and I remarked 'boy you are from the country and already got one strike on you.' And then I asked him 'what are you going to try out for?' and the answer came back like a flash, 'shortstop', and that really shook me."

Continuing the interview Nick reported he said, "Boy you haven't got a chance. Why you are going against the greatest little shortstop in the state, he played in an All-Star game in New York last year and that's Buddy Thomas." However, Nick said, "it didn't seem to bother Joe, he just came back and said 'well I can pitch then' and that opened my eyes wide. I said to him boy that's what we need is pitchers. From then on Joe spent the greater part of his time working the mound, although in pinches he played other positions and well. He was a great little sportsman from his beginning on through the years."

Speaking personally about Joe, I have remarked to him many times, "Joe, you can't fool me, I've known you since you were a pup" and he would get a big laugh out of it. I've contacted him in sports and found no better boy for cooperation. I've had business dealings with him in his years with Cal Rodgers at the service station and again at his own station at Broadway and Limit. He was one that was always ready to do the little things to make a customer happy, and always had a cheerful word whether you were driving in or just going out. That was Joe.

He had a lovely family, a wonderful wife in the former Roseann Behrens, and three fine children, Ronnie, Janice and Pamela.

May the memories of a good sportsman, a devoted husband and father, as Joe was known, be not forgotten.

It seems that since the Sedalia Rod and Gun Club was organized—one year ago June 30 there are the same old rumors starting to be bounced back-and-forth. Those rumors of "What's so-and-so going to make out of it."

The rumors are not unusual, there is always someone desiring to start something like that and blame it on someone else to stir up trouble. But this is one time the "rumor machine" had four flat tires—it just didn't go over and the Gun Club has a solid footing and is headed for bigger and better things in Pettis County.

I heard about them and started seeking out information, which I pass along to the sports readers of this column. As far as any individual or group making a profit—it just isn't there. Furthermore, it can't be under the rules, by-laws and the way the organization has been set up and incorporated.

First the organization was set up with the first 50 men purchasing stock, one share each, and that was all and is all any individual can buy. If someone wants to sell his share none of the other 49 can buy it, and it must be passed on to someone else—otherwise no sale. Consequently no individual can control the organization for a personal benefit, no one person can control it for his personal gain in any manner.

So that rumor is knocked in the head.

Then the rumor of the club trying to sell its properties to the city because it joins the Spring Fork Lake is what I may say, "all wet". The city had a chance to buy the property before the gun club and the finances were and are such it couldn't buy it anyway. Secondly, the members of the Gun Club have no idea of trying to sell it to anybody—they want to keep it, and are.

Backing the Gun Club position, the members are improving the property now, building a wonderful shelter house at the trap shooting area, working toward a large and beautiful lake of their own, and in general, landscaping the property so it will keep its present beauty and be something that local sportsmen and women will want to belong to.

Oh yes, no salaries are paid to officers, directors, or anyone else. So that's out of the picture. It is incorporated as a non-profit organization. And it will be several years before any profit could be made. The debt of the property hangs heavy and that's where the money is going—to pay it off and continually improve it.

So rumor mongers find something or somebody else to talk about.

Walter Sorrels Cops Feature at T-Bowl

Threatening weather limited both the number of modified stock cars in the field and the number of fans in the stands at Sedalia's Thunderbowl Speedway Saturday night.

However, the fans that braved the threat of rain saw the 29 cars entered stage an excellent race.

Columbia's Walter Sorrels topped the feature, ending Ken Taylor's dominance at the Thunderbowl after three races. Sorrels topped the Slater champion by nearly a quarter of the track. Sorrels, who turned in the best effort in time trials and won the trophy dash too, has never looked better this season. In time trials he moved around the quarter-mile-plus oval in .19.67. The previous two races this season at the Thunderbowl were won by Taylor.

Jim Cooper, driving a claimer powered by a flathead Ford engine, lost control and roared over the east backstretch. Although he didn't roll the car, he mashed in the front and the car probably will be out of action at least a week. The car, No. 52, had previously been driven by Dave Kellner and Kellner had won several races.

Several new drivers appeared on the Thunderbowl oval for the first time this season, including Jerry Hayes of Pittsburgh, Kan., Thurmond Lovejoy, Kansas City, and Joe Dennis, Clinton. Among the most conspicuous absentees were Moberly's Torch Aleshire, Forest Green's Aubrey Techemeyer, and Harold Cromley and Shorty Pace, both of Marshall. Heavy rains in the communities where these drivers reside was given as the reason for their absence. All are expected to make their regular appearance at the Thunderbowl next Saturday night.

The Results

Time Trials: Walter Sorrels, Columbia, .19.67; 8. Ken Taylor, Slater, .20.11; 3. Russ Hibbard, Marshall, .20.14; 4. Roy Hibbard, Marshall, .20.37.

First Heat Race: 1. Jim Raines, Marshall; 2. Thurmond Lovejoy, Kansas City; 3. Sonny Robertson, Windsor; 4. J. White, Clinton. Time: 3.26.12.

Second Heat: 1. Harvey Morrow, Marshall; 2. Roy Hibbard, Marshall; 3. Walter Sorrels; 4. Don Cooper, Sedalia. Time: 3.17.65.

Consolation Race: 1. Ken Taylor, Slater; 2. Jerry Hayes, Pittsburgh, Kan.; 3. Russ Hibbard, Marshall.

Ike Plays Golf And Bridge On Stag Weekend

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower put the emphasis on golf and bridge Saturday mid-way through a stag weekend of relaxation in the country.

His golf game, at least, seemed to be improving after a creaky start.

"The President shot a nice game," said one of his companions of the fairways, retired Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins.

Nevins didn't say what Eisenhower's score was, but his own was a respectable 85. George E. Allen of Washington completed the golf threesome at the Gettysburg Country Club.

Like Eisenhower, Nevins and Allen are gentlemen farmers at Gettysburg.

The President and Allen, however, are making their headquarters for the weekend 25 miles away, at Camp David, Eisenhower's retreat in the Catoctin Mountains near Thurmont, Md.

To make up a table of bridge in the oak-paneled sunroom of the presidential lodge, retired Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther of Washington and William E. Robinson of New York were invited in. Gruenther heads the American Red Cross. Robinson is chairman of Coca-Cola Corp.

Yankees Sell Dickson Back to the Athletics

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees sold pitcher Murry Dickson back to the Kansas City Athletics Saturday and sent catcher Darrell Johnson and Pitcher Zack Monroe to Richmond of the International League.

The Yankees bought the much-travelled Dickson last Aug. 22 from Kansas City. The sum for today's sale was not disclosed but it was believed the 43-year-old right hander was shifted for less than the $20,000 waiver price.

In Kansas City the Athletics announced they optioned outfielder Zeke Bella to Shreveport of the Southern Assn.

The purchase of Dickson and departure of Bella left the Athletics' roster at 25, the limit that goes into effect tomorrow. Actually the A's have 26 players, but the presence of John Tsitouris, does not count toward the limit for 30 days because he is just out of military service.

Skinner Stars As Pirates Batter Phils

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bob Skinner, who ended a long batting slump Friday night with a double, rapped out 2 home runs and 2 singles in a perfect day at bat Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies 9-1.

Skinner had gone hitless in 30 times at bat before he doubled in the seventh inning of Friday night's game between the Pirates and Phillies. Philadelphia won the night game 8-1.

Skinner's hitting aided Ronnie Kline to pick up his third victory of the season against one defeat. Kline kept the Phillies scoreless for seven innings Saturday but weakened in the eighth.

Roberto Clemente added to the Pirate hitting power with two triples.

All of Skinner's hits and both Clemente's triples were off losing pitcher Ruben Gomez.

Four of the eight hits given up by Kline were singles by Phillie Phanatic Hamner who also had a perfect day at bat.

Quarles' Death Due To a Heart Ailment

WASHINGTON (AP)—A medical report said Saturday the unexpected death of Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles was caused by a heart ailment.

Quarles died Friday in his sleep. He was 64.

The Pentagon said a post-mortem report from Walter Reed Army Medical Center showed Quarles was stricken with "obstructive coronary sclerosis."

That is narrowing of the blood vessels in the heart, which in effect shuts off the blood supply to the heart muscle.

Quarles will be buried Tuesday in Arlington National Cemetery with military honors.

No decision has been announced on the naming of a temporary or permanent successor to his No. 2 position at the Pentagon.

Truman Goes Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman left New York City for his home in Independence, Mo., Saturday, expressing regret that his schedule caused him to miss seeing Sir Winston Churchill.

Truman and his wife boarded the train in late afternoon. The former President was honored Friday night on his 75th birthday at a dinner party here and in 15 other cities.

KU Will Go After Its Eighth Straight Big 8 Track Title

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Kansas, perennial kingpin of the Big Eight Conference, will be seeking its eighth straight title in the annual track and field championships at the University of Oklahoma Friday and Saturday.

Coach Bill Easton's Jayhawks must be installed as the favorite again because of an impressive record in spring meets.

The conference golf and tennis championship also will be decided with Oklahoma State a slight favorite to take both titles. Oklahoma state is the defending champion in golf and is co-holder of the tennis title with Colorado.

In the track meet, Kansas will be led by sprinters Charley Tidwell and Ernie Shelby, distance men Bob Lida and Bob Tague and Javelin thrower Bill Alley. Oklahoma State is expected to dominate the pole vault with its 15-foot performers Jim Graham and Aubrey Dooley.

Oklahoma may be a strong challenger if dashman Dee Givens recovers from a leg injury. The Sooners' one-two shotput team of Dan Erwin and Mike Lindsay will be favorites in their specialty. They have won every meet this spring. Gail Hodgson, defending mile champion, is expected to provide the Sooners' with additional first place points.

Missouri's chief threat for honors is discus thrower Dick Cochran, who has the finest pre-meet distance of 178 feet 2 1/2 inches. Colorado's Chuck Carlson has the best 440 time of the spring—a

Hard Bargaining In Steel To Begin Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel labor negotiators get down to hard bargaining Monday in efforts to hammer out a new contract in time to avert a July 1 strike.

The industry and steel workers are clearly poles apart after a week of preliminary sparring and trading opposing economic arguments.

Four-man industry and union teams will begin industry-wide talks replacing the dozen company sessions held with the union this past week.

Both sides pledged to work hard to seek new agreements in the little more than seven weeks remaining before present pacts expire June 30.

New Yorkers Listening To Spring's Drum of Revival

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—New York is a beautiful town.

Right now after a hard spring and a winter so stern its icicles stuck out like cactus thorns, eight million New Yorkers listen to the drum of revival.

In the warm, bright air, Manhattan turns toward tomorrow with a yawn of sureness.

It is wonder all over. Now you don't know where the next bud or smile or traffic ticket will bloom from.

The sun, emerging from weeks of clouds, breaks out dark glasses and decrees ten times ten million freckles.

The magic moment of difference has come. The policeman gives an unfinished lecture. Traffic goes more slowly than usual because this is a day when everybody is going to be later than usual and not mind it.

At this time of the year, New York gives you the feeling of a bubble coming out of a bottle.

The town has an ever-renewable champagne excitement.

New York is the place where George Washington was sworn in as president and gruff Mark Twain growled about his chow and put out the "welcome mat" for mysterious strangers from heaven.

New York is a seedbed of talent, known or unknown.

New York is a place of adventure to strangers. Millions journey around the world to see it.

New York is as colloquial as the smallest country town, able with its gossip to stir mighty echoes.

New York is the world's greatest landscape for dreamers, a pasture beyond individual ownership.

New York is the most open and hospitable municipality in the land. It's the kind of place where the first thing a guy wants to do when he comes here is to bring self down faster than it can build itself up.

New York is the only city in the world which has a running race over whether it can tear it.

Annuities Vary

Railroad Retirement Board Finds Seven Past 100 Mark

In a recent survey of its benefit rolls, the Railroad Retirement Board found that it was paying monthly benefits to seven widows and mothers over 100 years old. Based on the former railroad service of either husbands or sons, their annuities vary from $31 to $74 a month; their ages range from a "youthful" 100 to 105 for the senior member of the group.

Many of these "old timers," inheritors of a pioneer tradition that honored self-sufficiency, confided that their monthly annuities gave them a sense of independence. "It helps to pay for my share," said 102-year-old Ora Dalton; and, Lydia Garner, 101, who remembers that as a young woman she milked six cows each morning and night and could "hitch up a team of horses faster than any man," asserted that her annuity "gives me my own money."

When they were born, during the decade of the 1850's, American railroads had emerged from the experimental stage. Tracks had been fixed at a standard gauge steel ingots were rolled instead of hammered into rails, and the locomotive had become the "Iron Horse," an American institution familiar to every schoolchild.

Elizabeth Holcomb, a 101-year-old resident of Kankakee, Ill., recalls that she was six years old the first time she saw a railroad train. That was in 1864, when she traveled with her family to Illinois on the battle-scarred Baltimore and Ohio, then recovering from damage and losses inflicted by Confederate troops 3 years earlier.

Between 1860 and 1880, the Nation's rail network grew enormously, opening new markets and creating new jobs. Annie Parsons, of Atchison, Kan., recalls her journey from New York to Kansas by covered wagon when she was nine years old. In 1884 her husband went to work for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad as a station agent, just 15 years after the golden spike had been driven to unite East and West by rail.

Union by railroad of the North and South, achieved by American railway builders years earlier, was torn apart by the guns of the Civil War. Mrs. Dalton, whose annuity is based on her husband's service with the Yazoo and Mis-

"My father hid our meat underground and put a chicken coop over the place to conceal it. He left one piece of meat in the house. When the Yankees came, he could truthfully say that we had only one piece of meat in the house."

Susan Genoa's recollection of Abraham Lincoln is enhanced because "it was in his time that my father died." She is 105 years old. And Mrs. Holcomb recalls the day when word was passed along the "Pike" in Ohio where she lived that Morgan's raiders were coming.

Can Clean Up Mails

Public Can Destroy Obscenity in Mails

second of two articles published in the public interest on the growing threat of obscene mail and what can be done about it. This article explains how the American public can drive the dealers in obscenity out of business.)

The American public, if it wants to, can destroy the half billion dollar a year mail-order business in obscenity which is having such disastrous effects on teenage youngsters, Postmaster Maurice Hogan stated today.

The judgment as to what is obscene is actually in the hands of the citizens of Sedalia and other communities throughout the nation, the Postmaster emphasized; and the final judge in these matters is the conscience of these awakened communities.

"We can clean up the mails in Sedalia if enough citizens become aware of the seriousness of this problem and use their influence to do so," Postmaster Hogan said. "We must do so to protect our homes, curb juvenile delinquency, and prevent the poisoning of the minds of our children."

All the average citizen needs do if his home is invaded by un-ordered and unwanted mail so-liciting the sale of filthy, lewd and lascivious films, slides, pic-tures or other obscene and por-nographic material is to complain to the Post Office Department. This is done by mailing the ob-jectionable material itself, and the envelope it came in, with a signed note of protest to the local Post-master.

An investigation is then made by the Post Office Department's inspection service. If their find-ings justify action to ban the ma-terial from the mails, the depart-ment's general counsel then issues such an order. If the sender of the obscene literature protests the Department's ruling, the matter may then be taken to the nearest United States District Court for decision.

Where the material in question is clearly pornographic, criminal action is usually taken by the local prosecuting authorities with the cooperation of the Post Office Department. Convictions in such cases provide for both jail and dollar fines for the dealers in ob-scenity.

Testimony given recently in Washington by Postmaster Gen-eral Arthur E. Summerfield be-fore the subcommittee of the House post office and Civil Serv-ice committee indicates that no longer do dealers in smut and dirty pictures serve only a few adults. Instead, they are increas-ingly soliciting youngsters, send-ing their unwanted and unordered material indiscriminately and without conscience, into the homes of the nation.

Postmaster Hogan emphasized that the Post Office Department is intensifying its efforts to clean up the mails. Its chief opposition in doing so comes from those who reap huge profits from unrestricted mailings, and from some mis-guided individuals who confuse liberty with license, and in so doing, unwittingly give aid to these dealers in obscenity.

Congressman Kathryn E. Gran-ahan, chairman of the House post office and Civil Service subcom-mittee on obscene literature, ap-ly summed up this apparent con-fusion in the minds of some re-cently by stating "There are those who express concern about their constitutional right of free speech and free press. I would like to point out in this connection that there are many situations where a certain freedom might apply to adults but will not apply to children. For example, the selling of alcoholic beverages to minors is prohibited; children under a certain age are not permitted to drive an automobile; and they are not admitted to see certain movies if they are minors. How-ever, experience clearly demon-strates that the wholesale cir-culation and uncontrolled dissemina-tion of obscene material always brings a good deal of it into the hands of children and teen-age youth."

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, in discussing the scope of this social menace, has publicly stated that "It is my deep conviction — frequently ex-pressed to individual members of this Congressional Committee, re-ligious and educational leaders, newspaper editors, and citizen groups that one of the most seri-ous moral and social problems in the United States today is the multi-million dollar mail order traffic in obscenity.

"In spite of the frustrations and the legal complications, and even the court decisions, I feel a re-sponsibility to the public to at-tempt to prevent the use of the mails for indecent material, and to seek indictments and prosecu-tions for such offenses, even though it may be argued that it falls in the category of material concerning which there have been previous rulings favorable to the promoters. It seems to me that only by this method can the di-mensions of this problem become clearly established before the courts and the Congress and the American public."

Tuesday Evening

Business Women Celebrate 'Bosses Night' at Dinner

The American Business Women's Association held its annual Bosses Night dinner Tuesday evening, May 5, at the Bothwell Hotel carrying out the theme, "Sailing Along With You." Members of the organization had as special guests their employers and wives of their employers.

The speaker of the evening was T. J. Norris, superintendent of Sedalia's public schools, who talked on "The Importance of Education."

Norris pointed out the stress that is now being put on education and stated that the most important of all the resources of the country is its citizens. There is a demand, he said, for trained personnel and a drop in the need for unskilled.

The idea that natural resources determines the high standard of living in this country is not true, the speaker said. The education development is low in Brazil, although it is rich in natural resources. The difference in the standard of living in this country and Brazil is the education, Mexico, too, he pointed out has an abundance of natural resources but has not, until recently, done much about education.

In Russia, Norris said, the highest paid people are teachers—not scientists. The teachers are needed to teach those who will become scientists.

Even agriculture now is done with technical knowledge rather than folk lore.

Education, Norris went on to say, is an investment in people. It produces more goods, a higher standard of living, it aids in the field of foreign affairs. There was a time when we felt safe between two big oceans but not any more. Now we must have education and development.

Education means opportunity for all, Norris stated. It makes people want more things, to read

Mrs. Hamby will also be taking the field trip to Chicago, at which time she will be able to go behind the scenes at the Chicago Museum of Natural History, Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, Adler Planetarium and the National Argonne Laboratories.

SUMMER DRESSES

New arrivals of summer dresses grow more exciting with each shipment. Every wanted fabric is available from sheer gingham and batistes to linens, piques and broadcloths. Beautiful floral patterns on highly polished cottons are a favorite, particularly the full skirted ones. Checks and floral patterns are running neck and neck for popularity. We like them both as they each have their own place in our wardrobes. Full skirts and sheaths are equally important and it makes for a happy season when we have a choice of skirts. Sleeveless dresses are gaining ground as the true hot weather dresses make their appearance. Keep in mind a sleeveless dress can be worn with a short linen jacket or a smart sweater on cooler days and in air-conditioned rooms. All type of necklines are being shown; square, scoop, sabrina and the perennial favorite "convertible." Select your dresses wisely; with the large variety of fabrics, styles and colors there is no reason to make the wrong selections.

Sedalia Moose Lodge Plans To Have a Class Enrollment

The first meeting of the year for the newly elected officers of the Missouri Moose Association was held Tuesday evening with Governor James R. Burk presiding.

It is planned to have a class enrollment for the Sedalia Moose Lodge, along with the other 1,325 lodges of the Moose Order, on June 14 in honor of the high school graduating class at Mooseheart.

Ill., home of the dependent children of the Moose.

This is the first of these mass enrollments and it is planned for this to be a continuing practice throughout the year. The Sedalia lodge plans to enroll 50 new members on this date, as this is the number of graduates at Mooseheart.

A report was given by the degree staff of their work at the recent spring conference held at Maplewood. The Sedalia team, composed of H. B. Satterwhite, Lloyd Deuschle, W. G. McMellen, E. D. Wittman, Tom McNally and C. U. Curtis, took fifth place honors out of the 23 lodges in the state. Their points total in competition was only 16½ lower than the first place team, St. Charles, which scored 576.75 points out of a possible 600 total.

The president of the Missouri Moose Association, Lloyd Deuschle, Sedalia, announced he had received word from Mooseheart that all reports from the spring conference are very favorable, including the enrollment ceremony taking 85 new members into the Loyal Order of Moose.

It was voted by the membership to continue sponsoring teams in the Little League baseball for this summer as it has in the past. The annual spring picnic will be held May 27 at the Catholic Community Center. All food and refreshments will be furnished for members and their families, beginning at 6:45 p.m.

It was announced, the Women of the Moose will hold an open meeting Tuesday night, May 12, at 8 p.m. This is a very beautiful ceremony and all Moose members and their families are invited to attend.

Outgoing Governor Campbell Berry thanked all who helped him during his term of office, and in making his quota for the past year, which entitled him to receive the Big Missouri Governors award at a Five Star Fraternal-

The Arts Are Investments

Music is recognized as a human necessity rather than a luxury or matter of mere entertainment. Man has always turned to music in the most important hours of his existence. It would be difficult to find a leader among men who has not publicly recognized the importance of great music to mankind.

Theodore Roosevelt said: "Let the love for literature, painting, sculpture, architecture and, above all, music, enter into your lives." Gladstone wrote: "Music is one of the most forcible instruments for training, for arousing, or governing the mind and the spirit of men."

Although music of a sort exists naturally, whether among savages with drums, companies of marching soldiers, square dance or jive sessions, music of an ennobling nature is to be found largely in the concert hall, opera house, or church.

Such music must be maintained by public spirited citizens in various organizations that are concerned with the cause of great music. The Community Concert Association, currently conducting its membership renewal in Sedalia, is one of the leading organizations with such a purpose.

James A. Linen, publisher of TIME magazine, speaking to the national radio audience from the Metropolitan Opera House on National Opera Day, said:

"Apparently one of the things we are going to keep with us in our new world is music. One of the most important things that has got to happen if the United States is to maintain its position of leadership in the world is for the rest of the world to give us credit for culture as well as bathtubs. History proves that when a nation attains to world leadership it preserves that rank only so long as its culture commands respect. This is a condition of world leadership."

The time is already at hand when people are refusing to live in communities without cultural facilities. The eminent Dallas, Texas, music writer, John Rosenfield, reported that an executive of the Chance-Vought Corporation, makers of airplanes, made a complete survey of the cultural activities of the city of Dallas before they would move a large factory to Dallas. Said the executive:

"This will involve moving 1,500 families from Connecticut to Texas. The wives and mothers are making 'static.' They don't want to live in a hitching-post town; they refuse to bring up their children in a cultural wilderness. We've got to prove by facts and figures that the Southwest is also the home of a mature civilization, represented by its educational and fine arts institutions."

The new plant did move to Dallas as Dallas is eminently that kind of a community. Mr. Rosenfield went on to explain that the arts are as important to the businessman now as storm sewers, culverts, bridges, charities, libraries, and the new rotary street sweeper. Says Mr. Rosenfield: "Any community without the arts has only a tenuous one-line connection with the spirit of mankind. . . . They (the arts) are investments. They pay off. In a few years the investor can keep ledgers on them."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Castro Knew About Panama Invasion

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — Fidel Castro's statement that he knew nothing about the Cuban invasion force that landed in Panama is Fidelista double-talk.

Here are the real facts: The port from which the 96 Cubans, plus 200 subsequent invaders, departed was Batabano, a small anchorage in southern Cuba opposite the Isle of Pines. At Batabano is a Cuban naval post, plus an army post, plus a police barracks, also a gunboat in the harbor. Twenty miles away, at Managua, is the cadet school of the Cuban army, with at least 300 soldiers and officers.

Batabano is so small that it would be impossible for a force of 96 well-equipped men, and later 200 others, to depart without the knowledge of the Cuban authorities and without direct authorization of Fidel Castro. Army commanders have to answer to Castro for their every move and they make no moves without direct orders.

Yet the oratorical premier of Cuba claims that he was in complete ignorance of the Panamanian invasion.

Note—Real fact is that Fidel Castro attacks the United States in Cuba and praises Americans in the United States.

He Uncovered Teapot Dome

Few senators who listened to the earnest plea of Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico to scrutinize carefully the part played by Adm. Lewis Strauss in the Dixon-Yates conflict of interest case, realized one reason why Anderson was so earnest. They did not know he had once played a vital part in exposing another great conflict-of-interest case.

In South Dakota where he was born, Anderson contracted TB and went to New Mexico for his health. Working for the Albuquerque Journal, he unearthed the first clue to the famous teapot dome oil scandal. He learned that a prize race horse had been shipped from the east in a special railroad car to the New Mexican ranch of Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior under Harding.

Fall was a relatively poor man, and his sudden affluence aroused Anderson's suspicion. He investigated, and in cooperation with the Chicago Tribune and the Denver Post, finally ran down the fact that the race horse had come from the New Jersey farm of Harry B. Sinclair of the Sinclair Oil Company, beneficiary of the teapot dome lease.

Anderson and his paper, the Journal, were subjected to all sorts of pressure, including an advertising boycott which forced Carl Magee, the publisher, to sell the Journal to a friend of President Harding's.

On one occasion, according to Werner and Starr in their book, "Teapot Dome," Secretary of Interior Fall came into the Journal office and asked in a loud voice, "who is the S.O.B. who is writing those lies about me?"

Anderson stood up. He is six foot two. "I'm the S.O.B. and I don't write lies," he said.

Fall evaporated. Anderson went on to become congressman, senator, and a member of the cabinet.

The teapot dome scandal caused President Coolidge to appoint two special prosecutors, Owen Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, to prosecute Fall and Attorney General Harry Daugherty, together with Sinclair and Edward L. Doheny.

The Dixon-Yates contract, which is by all odds the biggest conflict of interest since the teapot dome scandal, was canceled by the Eisenhower administration because a banker representative, Adolphe Wenzell, had been secretly placed inside the budget bureau to help pull off the contract.

Although the Justice Department officially cited this as the reason for canceling the contract, President Eisenhower, unlike Coolidge, has appointed no special counsel to prosecute the guilty.

Note—One of those who helped unearth the teapot dome scandal was the late Sen. John B. Kendrick of Wyoming. His secretary was then a young man named Joe O'Mahoney who later, as senator from Wyoming, helped unearth the Dixon-Yates scandal. Another Wyoming senator, Gale McGee, is the most faithful Democrat on the committee now examining the Dixon-Yates conflict of interest as it pertains to Adm. Lewis L. Strauss.

Thought For Today

MOTHERS ARE GOD'S CHOSEN PARTNERS
By Ernest F. Miller, Associate Editor of The Liguorian

Michelangelo, the great and gifted sculptor, made statues so lifelike they almost breathed and spoke. Few mothers have the talent for making statues, but they do have the wonderful power of making human beings that are the very image of God and the heirs to heaven.

God, of course, is the only one who has the power to create. But for reasons known fully to Himself He wants men and women to be His assistants in preparing the materials into which He breathes an immortal soul. Mothers are the special workshop for God's sublime and incredible miracle of bringing new life into this world.

During their lifetime some people make furniture; others make automobiles and airplanes. A few make beautiful pictures and statues. But all these things are perishable. No matter how durable the material out of which they are made, no matter how much care is given these objects, in the end they crumble into dust.

Not so with a new-born child. In a mother's womb are the seeds of immortality, for a human being never really dies. The child whom a mother brings forth into the world lasts as long as God—forever. Neither atomic bombs, nor sickness, nor concentration camps—not even death—can stop the life of a soul. A billion years may pass, yet her son or daughter will still be calling her, "mother."

Many women forget that a baby is God's special interest. With the mother as His helper, God creates souls primarily for heaven and not for earth. He is not so much concerned whether these babies someday have an automobile of their own or a university education; rather He wants them in heaven so He can fill His children with an unbelievable amount of happiness.

God knows that motherhood involves many sacrifices. He knows there is danger in childbirth, though there is more chance of meeting death on a busy street corner or riding in an automobile. He knows mothers have to go without many legitimate pleasures in life to provide for their children. But God does not change His plan. He still wants wives to give Him people for heaven through the great privilege and power of motherhood.

What dignity and joy, then, belong to mothers who so cooperate with God in bringing His children into the world. Through her offspring are forged the golden chains of love. And though her trials and hardships are many, the rewards shall be great. God is waiting anxiously for the day when His chosen favorites have finished the task He has given them on earth. Then will mothers hear Him say, "You have served me well during your earthly life. Now you deserve your eternal reward. Come, let me show you around heaven."

Mothers

Mothers young, with eyes bright
Watch their little ones by day,
Listen for a cry at night,
Peek in, then tiptoe away;
Watch the first unsteady steps,
Watch the first new tooth come through
Tiny shoes and toys are kept
Baby books of all they do;
Mother watches as they grow,
And she spends most of her time
Answering questions, saying "No"
Washing off the dirt and grime;
School — a million things to do,
Sewing, mending, washing clothes,
Going to the meetings, too,
Making pies and cakes for those
Teenage, things are getting worse,
Where, she wonders, to begin,
Plays, and after they rehearse,
All the gang comes tromping in,
Clatter, music, lot of noise,
Trying to fill 'em up, oh, my,
Gay and hungry girls and boys,
All that she can do is try;
Mother's work is never done,
Round and round and round she goes,
Keeping up with everyone
Surely keeps her on her toes;
But the years have swiftly flown
And more steady now her pace
For her children now are grown
And home is a quiet place;
Mother reaching middle age
Wonders now what she will do,
Life's new chapter leaves a page
That is very clean and new,
So she looks about to see
What she'll find to fill her day
Things aren't like they used to be
Since the children went away;
Grandchildren to brag about,
And flowers that she can grow,
Mother now is going out
Any place that she can go,
Mother—years are creeping on,
Now she finds things she can't do,
Thoughts turn to the years gone
And the happy times she knew,
And her children now find
That they're busy as can be,
They don't mean to be unkind
Yet, few moments now are free,
They have lives that they must live,
It's not that they just don't care,
They don't have much to give,
They don't have much time to spare;
Responsibility they shove
Off now on one another,
Don't take time to show the love
They should feel for their dear Mother;
So aside a day is set
To recall in all its beauty
Memories, we can't forget
To remind us of our duty;
Yet, some children need no day
For the love they feel is there,
And they show it in the way
They return her loving care.

Democrat Pick-ups

Odds and Ends
By News Staff

At an entertainment recently where soda pop was being sold, a woman sitting back a little way had her little girl with her and another little girl who wanted to sit on the front seat. Of course, the girls wanted soda pop and when she gave them money, the woman gave them an extra 15 cents and told them to also buy soda pop for the boy sitting across the aisle from them, whom she knew.

The girls, however, didn't know the boy, and just about the time they got back up in front, the boy got up and left.

Then they didn't know what to do, so they bought the pop and left the 15 cents for the boy on his chair. In a little while he came back, picked up the 15 cents and put it in his pocket. They were still confused. What should they do next? Should they tell him they put the 15 cents there for him to buy some pop, or should they just let it go?

Finally, they got up courage enough to tell him where the 15 cents came from and what it was for. He informed them he had already had a drink and that was that. They had fulfilled their duty.—H. L.

A couple building a new home have six children, four boys and two girls, and with the new home they are trying out a new system. The youngsters will be divided up, the two oldest boys in one room, the two youngest in another room and the two little girls in still another, and in each room is a nail on which a plaque may be hung — a plaque for the pair who keeps the tidest room. Father is making the plaque. Mother is to be the judge. And the room that gets the plaque three weeks in a row, for the plaque will be given every week, those youngsters in it will get a dollar apiece.

This doesn't include making the bed. But it means keeping toys and clothes picked up, and everything looking neat and clean.

Also, in the garage will be a chore board, which designates whose time it is to take out the garbage, wipe the dishes, mop the floor, or whatever there is to do, every day. This way there will be no quarrels as to who does what and when.

With the new home the parents hope that they are starting out right and will solve some of the little difficulties that sometimes arise in families. The youngsters are from two to 15 years of age. — H. L.

WASHINGTON — The old frontier spirit is running rampant in the land.

By the "tens of thousands" Americans are flooding the U. S. Land Office in Washington with requests for information about homesteading in Alaska.

This is the latest chapter, and perhaps the last, in the story of the great westward push.

Lands are available for homesteading in Alaska, and to some extent they are free, although the Land Office insists that "there is no such thing as free land from Uncle Sam." For about $50 in fees, an adventurer can get a claim to 160 acres. But unless he has at least $25,000 or more in reserve, he'll get no encouragement from the government.

At present, there are 365 million acres of vacant public land in the new state, most of which is beyond the last footlog. It's good land, for the most part, rich and virgin, and one day it will be developed, and fortunes will be made. But that may take a quarter century or more.

By law, the Land Office, part of the Department of Interior, cannot encourage or discourage potential homesteaders. But the office is allowed to "give out information."

Here are some of the phrasing the office uses in describing homesteading in Alaska; enormously expensive; enormously hard; very rough; loans are hard to get; a bitter and tough life and few have made it.

Alaska is not entirely "for the birds," but those who go up there to homestead should be tough, physically and mentally and have enough capital to spend $20,000 on improvements and still have enough to live on for two or three years. It probably will take that long to get any income at all from the land, according to officials. Most of those who have tried homesteading in Alaska have failed. Some, according to the government, have tried more than once and failed. In the choice Kenai peninsula which runs out into the Gulf of Alaska, 60 per cent of those who have attempted homesteading have failed. Today, in all of the vast state, there are but 200 full-time farmers — less than in some of the smallest counties here in the "old country."

To obtain homestead land, a person has to build a house and live on the 160 acres at least seven months each year; and he must clear and cultivate one-eighth of his land. The cost of clearing Alaskan land currently is running between $125 and $160 an acre.

But the Land Office is run by bureaucrats (civil servants) and frontiers are carved by frontiersmen, fortunately. Some are trading off to Alaska, despite the forecasts of doom by the Land Office. An entire caravan of people from Detroit, calling themselves the 59ers, has arrived there and most intend to settle in the rugged but rich Susitna Valley northwest of Anchorage.

Others will follow. For despite the common belief, homesteading did not cease or even hit its peak before 1890.

Over half of the lands homesteaded in the U. S. were settled in the 20th century, the Land Office says. Since the homestead law was enacted in 1862 — mainly to take care of Union soldiers — over 248 million acres have been homesteaded, and better than half of this activity took place since 1900.

Homesteading hit its peak between 1916 and 1920, when 39 million acres were settled by 195,000 families. After 1920, homesteading virtually ceased, and last year the total came to less than 40,000 acres.

Dr. Jordan Says

Big Problem With Ruptured Disc Is Kind of Treatment

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A number of readers have again asked for a discussion of what is variously referred to as herniated disc, slipped disc, or ruptured disc.

To the person who has a backache the name makes little difference, but the treatment and outlook certainly do.

Difficulty from a ruptured intervertebral frequently appears suddenly — at least the pain does. It may cause intolerable pain in the back, or lesser degrees of discomfort, sometimes extending beyond the lower back itself and down the back of the leg along the course of the sciatic nerve.

Diagnosis of a ruptured disc is generally not too difficult, since the history of the onset of the pain and its distribution are typical.

Furthermore, as a rule, an X-ray taken of the involved area will show a narrowing of the space between the bones of the vertebral column, though occasionally this narrowing does not show at once.

The big problem in treatment is to decide between so-called conservative treatment and surgery.

Generally speaking, conservative treatment consists of absolute rest in bed for about two weeks or longer. During this time heat or massage is often given and the patient frequently has to take pain killing drugs.

This is generally followed by instruction to sleep on a hard bed and to avoid any sudden twist or strain of the lower part of the back. Patients may be fitted with a special kind of back brace and given other instructions.

Some of those with a ruptured disc who are given such treatment do well and the pain leaves. But in others, this type of conservative treatment is not satisfactory and operation must be considered.

In one recent article the following statement was made:

Surgery is probably indicated when there is progressive paralysis or sensory loss; when an extremely severe protracted attack of sciatica does not respond to conservative treatment; when there are repeated attacks of sciatica and considerable incapacitation; when there is failure to improve during an adequate trial of conservative treatment; or when the patient cannot afford to continue conservative treatment for an indefinite period of time.

Although the results from surgery are generally good, the operation is sufficiently formidable so that it is not recommended lightly.

College Rejection Fears Destroy Will to Study

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

Several months ago a noted women's college accepted Jenny for its entering class in 1960. She was very happy about it. To her friend Edna she talked endlessly about its traditions, its famous teachers, its proximity to a noted men's university.

She talked so much about its advantages that Edna and her mother decided they wanted them too. But when Edna applied for them, the college wrote that it had completed its enrollment.

When Edna's mother read the letter, she said sharply: "Don't tell a word of this to Jenny! Don't tell anyone."

So Edna has been keeping the news of her rejection secret as though it were disgraceful. What's worse, she's felt so ashamed of it that she's lost interest in applying to another college lest it turn her down, too.

This is not very reasonable. Today many young people are going to be rejected by our most reputable universities. They'll be rejected not because they're undesirable but because there isn't room for them. If, like Edna's mother, we are going to suggest that their failure to make the "best" schools is disgraceful, they may either start despising the kind that are available or lose their enthusiasm for more education of any kind.

Parental ambition in this matter is destructive.

I know the brilliant daughter of overambitious parents who were so anxious for her to graduate from a certain leading women's college that she consistently failed in her final year of high school. When an exam was coming up she either fell sick or devised other methods to avoid taking it.

The possibility of getting a C that might endanger her eligibility had been so frightening to her that she didn't dare risk it. So this highly gifted girl has attended no college at all. Instead she drifts aimlessly from one clerking job to another, talking constantly about some grand idea of entering France's Sorbonne.

When our youngsters are rejected by our famous colleges it's not the opinions of our friends, neighbors and relatives we have to worry about. It's our own. It's we who find the rejection upsetting. It's we who regard it so humiliating that we can't imagine other people regard it reasonably.

Sinatra Is Sore at MGM Over Location

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra is sore at MGM because the studio won't send his new film to Hawaii on location.

The picture is "Sacred and Profane," formerly "Never So Few," and it was originally set for shooting in Burma. Then it was Hawaii. Now the jungle warfare will be waged on the MGM backlot.

"I'm against it," the singer remarked. "The location in Hawaii would only be 10 days. But the production department says it will add $400,000 to the budget and they won't go it. I think it's worth paying that to get authentic flavor."

Many will agree. "Bridge On the River Kwai" also could have been filmed on the MGM back lot, but it wouldn't have been the same picture. There's a flavor to authentic locales that the best of Hollywood's craftsmen can't duplicate.

Sinatra is a real fan of Gina Lollobrigida, who co-stars with him in the film. She and her husband came to Las Vegas for 24 hours as Frank's guests, and her large eyes got even larger.

The town is amazed at the success of "The Shaggy Dog," which may be Walt Disney's biggest grosser. The odd part is that television could have had the property. Walt wanted to do a series with his Mickey Mouse club graduates, and one of the sequences had a boy turning into a dog. ABC turned down the idea, and the dog story turned into a feature.

Walt may be making his first trip to Moscow next month. His 360-degree movie process, Cirarama, which was the hit of the Brussels fair, is opening in Moscow. Walt is trying to hitch a ride in Vice President Nixon's jet.

Carrier Boy Goes Beyond Call of Duty

Tommy Smith, 13 years old and a carrier boy for the Times-Press in Streator, Ill., went a little beyond the call of duty when he helped the stork at one of the homes where he delivered papers.

Tommy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, of Streator, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sebek, 403 West Fifth, was just going along putting the daily paper at the doors in an apartment house when suddenly a woman enlisted his help. Tommy didn't know what the excitement was all about, but he was told to stand by in the apartment where he had been called while the neighbor woman telephoned for a doctor.

It was a losing race with the stork to get the doctor there and, with the neighbor gone, Tommy took over and delivered the baby, a little girl.

Since Tommy usually was home by 5 p.m., his parents were worried, as was his grandmother who was visiting there at the time. His mother was a little provoked because she was waiting dinner and thought he was just playing along.

But when he arrived home, Tommy explained what had happened — that night he wasn't only delivering papers, he delivered a baby, too. Then he had to look after the other children in the home until somebody could take charge of them.

When the family physician arrived, he gave Tommy a pat on the back and suggested he should enter medical school at the earliest opportunity.

Let's Talk Gardening

Flagstone Patio Becomes Center of Family Interest

By Mrs. Leonard Hall
Garden Club No. 7

Do you have a patio or place near the house where you like to sit and relax with friends or charcoal broil a meal? Why not with just a little effort make this outdoor living room a little more attractive this year?

After many years of plain dirt gardening and flower growing, we at last have a patio of our own.

It is made of native flagstone and will be the center of interest at our home from early April until the first hard freeze in the fall. Of course, the daily show the flowers put on contribute so much to its magnetism for all.

Perhaps you too have had to experiment to decide just when plants do best around the patio. You might choose them by these standards: height, continuity of bloom, color, form, cleanliness, blooming season, fragrance and according to whether they will be in full sun or partly shaded. If you have one of the newer homes where trees are not yet established, it may be in full sun.

You will notice height and continuity of bloom are at the top of my list. Remember you are painting a picture. Pink may be your favorite color. You have many pink flowers to choose from in a height range from six inch pink alyssum to ten foot crepe myrtle.

My favorites which are especially good in these two ways are roses and annual phlox. So we have twelve hybrid teas and several floribund roses. The phlox self-seed coming up year after year. Their jewel like tones blend well with roses. They do not sap the soil of too much strength, yet provide bloom during the roses short rest period.

On the edge of the patio nearest the house vines that can be controlled are good. We like the purple Clematis Jackmani on a trellis as it is colorful and does not drop seeds, flowers and so forth to make constant cleaning necessary. A silver lace vine provides bloom here in late summer and fall. You might choose the cypress vine, moon flower, morning glory or even ornamental gourds if space allows.

For fragrance why not plant sweet alyssum, petunias, carnations or stocks? This year we plan to plant a few white nicotina as they are very fragrant after showers and of evenings when the flowers are fully expanded, the odor being very much like that of the tuberose. These and Corniche petunias will occupy one end of the patio after the jonquils and tulips have bloomed. For height at various corners we have the blue summer lilac, rose crepe myrtle, dogwoods, tamarix and redbud. These provide contrast and more shade and privacy as they grow.

Other early bloomers than those mentioned are daisies, giant primroses, marigold, gladiola, baby's breath, larkspur, snapdragons and verbena. For summer and fall you will want to choose from asters, begonias, bells of Ireland, salvia, zinnas and cannas as space permits. These are just a few of the more reliable ones for this zone.

So in closing may I urge you to plan your patio planting now if you haven't already done so. Remember to keep in mind such important factors in plants as height, continuous bloom, colors, form, litter they produce, season of bloom, fragrance and location to be planted. Your local nursery man is a most reliable source of information on any of these problems.

New Report Links Cancer And Smoking

NEW YORK (AP) — Another medical report, linking lung cancer with smoking, says the total smoking a person does is the important factor, not the period of consumption.

The new report, covering a seven-year period and involving 500 lung cancer victims, was announced Thursday by the U.S. Public Health Service and the American Cancer Society.

Eight of the patients were non-smokers. Nineteen smoked pipes or cigars.

Most of the 473 cigarette smokers had smoked at least 9,125 packs in their lifetime. This averaged out to a pack a day over a 25-year period, or two packs a day for 12½ years.

"The total number of packs smoked during life is the important variable, and it makes no difference whether the total effect was accumulated over a short or long period of time," the report said.

The study was made by Dr. Herbert L. Lombard and Dr. Leonid S. Sniegoff of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

The report also said the study "does not prove causation" (but) it is highly suggestive and no evidence has been presented that disproves such a hypothesis.

Those starting to smoke while young, the report said, are slightly more liable to lung cancer than those smoking the same total after a later start.

Timothy V. Hartnett, Chairman of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, commented that "in spite of persistent experiments" no convincing laboratory or clinical evidence exists to prove that cigarette smoking causes cancer. His statement added:

"On the other hand, there have been, and continue to be, published accepted scientific studies challenging the premise that often-cited statistical surveys smoking and lung cancer."

Elizabeth Taylor, Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher, all on the same program. Elizabeth Taylor wins back the love of her husband, Paul Newman, in "CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF." Graduation Exercise At Quisenberry Graduation exercises were recently held at Quisenberry School for three graduates, Evelyn Pohl, Mary Fiedler and Roy Chappell.

The school was beautifully decorated in blue and white crepe paper streamers, the class colors. A large design with "Quisenberry School, Class of 1959," made a background on stage.

The class motto, "Sailing, Not Drifting," was artistically arranged on a bulletin board directly behind the beautifully appointed serving table.

Evelyn Pohl, Michael Mallory and Richard Chappell received perfect spelling awards.

All children in the school received reading certificates.

A reception was held following the exercises. The table was beautifully arranged with a lace cloth, crystal candle holders, with matching flower holders of lovely spring flowers arranged around a rectangular mirror with white paper carnations, the class flower, made by Evelyn Pohl and Mary Fisher.

Mrs. Orin Chappell, assisted by Mrs. Gerald Volpp, Mrs. Pohl, and Mary Fiedler, doing the art work.

The following program was given: Processional, Richard Chappell; Song, "Your Land and My Land," the school; Welcome, Evelyn Pohl; address, "Ten Strings," the Rev. D. Warren Neal, Broadway Presbyterian Church, Sedalia; Let Us Travel, Mary Fiedler; song, "Beautiful Dreamer," the school; prayer, Roy Chappell; presentation of class, Mrs. Mildred Bell; awarding of diplomas, Gerald Volpp; board of education; Song, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," the school; prayer, the Rev. D. Warren Neal.

Mrs. Cloyce Wilson served cake and coffee and Mrs. Orin Chappell served ice cream.

A picnic was held at the school house due to rain on Monday, with Mrs. Orin Chappell and Mrs. Gerald Volpp serving as hostesses.

All birthdays for the summer months were celebrated. A beautifully decorated cake centered the table.

Kiwanis Club Hears Talk By Dr. Keller on Posture

"Posture, Health and Vitality" was the subject of a talk by Dr. Roy Keller before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon, in recognition of National Good Posture Week sponsored by the National Health Federation.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. Roy B. Stribling.

Scientists contend that natural death never occurs, Dr. Keller said. Rather, the mind fails to control the body and the latter deteriorates by lack of discipline relating to the functions of exercise, diet and mental attitude.

He stressed the importance of lactic acid as a protective device in maintaining body vitality, an acid found in every cell of the body which is released from the muscles by exercise an imperative function necessary for proper posture and health.

There is more lactic acid in the human body than in any animal and may have something to do with the fact that the human is the most intelligent of all. The old idea was that symptoms of old age were caused by an increase in acidity, but it is now considered that there is a lessening of acidity and an increase of alkalinity which opens the door to all kinds of infections. Lack of exercise accelerates old age symptoms.

Dr. Keller asserted the healing professions and schools are deficient in not giving more stress to the importance of exercise, good posture and proper diet. "No amount of money, no degree of education," he said, "can compensate for loss of health. Schools should make health the most important subject."

Rest periods for working people are beneficial, the speaker remarked, because complete rest restores body vitality. However, the so-called coffee break is not doing as much good as it should because most workers during that period indulge in smoking.

Dr. Keller cited research statistics to emphasize his opinion that tobacco smoking shortens the human life span by weakening the nerve impulses because of its effect on the proper body utilization of lactic acid.

"You can have good posture, good health and happiness," the speaker concluded, "if you really want it, but one has to really work at it and create a new personality, physical and mental. If there is recognition and utilization of the spiritual forces, the results will be gained much sooner."

Also on the program were musical numbers arranged by Miss Vesta Elliott in observance of National Music Week. Helen G. Steele Music Club members participating were introduced by Miss Elliott as follows: Susan Ward and Kay Burke, singing a duet, with Mrs. A. R. Beach, piano accompanist; Mrs. Jack Herndon, singing solos, with Mrs. Burris Carter, accompanist.

Phil McLaughlin, vice-chairman of the public and business affairs committee, called attention of the club to auto safety legislation now being considered by the Missouri Legislature relating to adoption of the point system for drivers. Upon his motion, the club went on record favoring a resolution in support of this legislation.

President Sylvan Woolery announced that the board of directors and committee chairmen would meet at 7:30 Monday night in the home of Russell Maag.

Don Warden, manager of the Goodyear store, was introduced as a new club member.

Guests were: John Cook with Dan Wolf; Clinton Black with J. C. Griffin; and Rex Real with James Ryan.
